SUNSTROKES.

Real estate in Gainesville is better than putting your money in a hole in the ground.

The man in business who does not advertise frequently has to shave himself to keep his hand in.

It is all right for ladies to go shopping without their hats, but they should never go without their purses.

Old saying: "None but the brave deserve the fair." Later: None but the brave can live with some of them.

Don't try to be too funny in writing your advertisement. People want facts and no jokes when they come to purchase goods.

The man who sells for cash has nothing but the money to remember his customer by, so he can look up a new acquaintance.

Peninsula had a population in 1900 of 17,702, while New Orleans had 287,000, yet the former city has been having more of a struggle to rid herself of yellow fever than the latter.

The law newspaper man has an ambition to ride on a free pass on the railroad. The experienced man in the business would much rather pay his fare and get pay for his advertising.

There is a desire on the part of numerous citizens to have a union depot in this city. It would certainly be a great convenience to the traveling public and would also do away with having the railroad occupy one of our principal streets. Let the matter be pushed along by those who are most interested.

Mr. Root, Mr. Taft, Mr. Foraker, Mr. Fairbanks et al. are particularly willing Mr. Shaw should capture "one" of the few States that are sure to go Democratic. Mr. Shaw, the Virginia coons are "yours."

There is one thing certain: The man who "knocks" would never lift his hammer to do it if he had to put up a farthing for the pastime. Knocking is done by the fellows who don't like to pay.

There is a chance that Greene and Gaylor may not soon leave Georgia, unless they may be moved to Fort Leavenworth, Kans. But Atlanta may claim them as residents.

There is one thing certain: Until we have better roads the death list from auto mishaps will not be so large. The man who runs the machine takes the only chance now.

The Oar is getting magnanimous. He will permit the Fluns to talk in their own language. Heretofore he would not permit them to talk at all.

One thing will be quite certain in regard to the trolley line to Newnan's Lake. None of the calamity bowlers will build a competing line.

Iowa should call in her officeholders before she takes another census and save showing a decrease in population, as she did the last time.

Gainesville will soon be nearer Jacksonville, via the Coast Line, when the through trains get started.

A DANGEROUS FODDER.

Many of our farmers and stock owners will be interested in the following communication, which should cause an inspection of all fodder for stock. Poor food is almost as bad as none at all:

"Agricultural Dept., State of Florida, Commissioner's Office, Tallahassee, October 13, 1905. Hon. H. H. McCreary, Editor of Daily Sun.

"Dear Sir: I desire to call the attention of manufacturers, dealers, and especially consumers of stock feed, to the following extracts from a bulletin issued by the Experiment Station of the State of Wisconsin:

"Your attention is called to the fact that the Experiment Station has recently found at different points in the State feeding stuffs grossly adulterated with rice hulls.

"Rice hulls contain 40 per cent of wood fiber and from 15 to 20 per cent silica or sand. Worse than this, the edges of the hulls carry sharp barbs which irritate the stomach and intestines of the animals, and when fed in quantity the hulls may kill the animals to which they are fed. Rice hulls are, therefore, not only worthless, but even dangerous to lives of horses and cattle.

"The above is applicable in Florida as well as Wisconsin. I hope our dealers will have sufficient interest in the welfare of their customers to purchase no stock feeds adulterated with rice hulls or chaff. Consumers will do well to know what their stock feeds are compounded from. See to it that each package states on a tag what it is made from, or refuse to take it. I am preparing a circular on this subject for distribution. B. E. McLean, Commissioner of Agriculture."

FLORIDA THE PLACE.

There is room in Florida for a lot of people more than we have at present, and there is plenty to do for a lot of good workmen. At the present time the turpentine industry is one of the greatest. In a few years there will be more building done with the manufactured stone and brick, and there will be a demand for stone made from Portland cement, and brick made from sand by the process now in use in several parts of the State.

There is also a chance for the varied industries of the farmer. Cattle and sheep are bound to be in the lead in many portions of the State, and with the large cities that are springing up, much of the stuff grown on the farm will be used to supply the home market.

Some have the impression that everything grown on the farm must be shipped to the North and East, and the people at home left to do with what they can find of the leaving. This idea is a delusion, and it will be worth the attention of some of our fruit and vegetable growers to make an effort to cater to the home trade. There should be a demand in a city the size of Gainesville for a good supply of the best fruits and vegetables at fair prices, and many growers would be money ahead if they would build up a home trade, rather than ship their products and realize not enough to pay the cost of production.

To be a shipper and lose on the project does not pay as well as to sell at a reasonable profit at home.

The Miami Record modestly ventures to predict that the Bookman school bill will be repealed at the next session of the Legislature. That is after the style of Hieks' predictions, somewhat in the nature of a wild guess; a case of hit or miss.—St. Augustine Record.

If there is any paper in the land that has a brighter streak of yellow than those New York life insurance companies, it ought to be put in a frame.

Now we will have a new hotel in Gainesville.

A SAVING BANK.

The stocking has done duty as a savings bank probably ever since women began to wear hosiery, says The Savannah News, but it is doubtful if the cash-carrying capacity of a stocking was ever one of the main points in a lawsuit until that very point was made in a Pittsburg, Pa. court a day or two ago. The controversy was over a piece of property, for which one of the parties, a woman, said she paid in cash, $1,747. "In what form was that money?" she was asked. "One thousand and it was in bills, and $747 was in gold and silver coins." "From what place did you take the money?" "Out of my stocking, where I kept it." "Do you mean to tell this court that you carried $1,747 in bills and metal money in your stocking?" "Yes, sir." The lawyer submitted to the court that he was not qualified as an expert on the point of the capacity of stockings, but that he might later request that a few experts be called upon to say what they knew of such things.

SPARE OUR BLUSHES.

The Gainesville Sun, one of the most enterprising papers in the State, is preparing a big trade edition to be distributed at the Fair. It is needless to say that the effort will be a magnificent success and The Tribune sincerely hopes that Editor McCreary will make a million out of the venture. —Tampa Tribune.

Coming as the above does from the best daily paper in South Florida, we accept the compliment with all the modesty at our command and will make an effort to have the edition up to the anticipations of our friends.

The Palatka Times-Herald will issue a holiday number to show what progress that city has made.

The laying of the corner stone of the State University will be an event in Gainesville.
